Well, well, well
Well, well, well
Well

I can't help singing once I'm moving
On a bike, plane or train
But there's something about this moving
That's been working on my brain

'Cause I've got this feelings for you, darling
These feelings pure and true
But they won't stop me running away from you

It's a long distance, long distance, long distance
It's a long distance, long distance, long distance
It's a long distance, long distance, long distance
It's a long distance, long distance, long distance

Our love is a savior, I know that that's true
But I've got to get a little braver, if love's a bastard too
She can make you lose your way
Make you lonely through and through
Put a fire in your heart and rekindle you

It's a long, long, long distance
It's a long, long, long distance
It's a long, long, long distance
It's a long, long, long distance

Yeah, get it, get it done
You're in my heart
You're in my head
You're in my singing
Where I'm going where I come from

It's a sweet way to say it's been too long
It's been a sweet time running for it

It's a long distance, long distance, long distance
It's a long distance, long distance, long distance
It's a long distance, long distance, long distance
It's a long distance, long distance, long distance

Singing it to ya
Bringing it to ya
Singing it to ya
Bringing it to ya
