

Philip Bell

"Always With You"

Visit "Always With You" on MotoLyrics.com

Please don't say you're not beautiful
Yeah when I tell you this
And don't shrug it off
And act like it's meaningless
You don't know you are but you'll always be
We walked on a beach sharing a cigarette
And sharing the sand and the sky that ran parallel with it
But this distance seems so much shorter always with you
If you leave me what will I be?
The ghost who haunts you?

The man you once knew?
When I say that you're beautiful
I sink as you drift from me
Dark clouds need to drift away
Before your own eyes can see
That you really are but you'll always be
If you leave me what will I be?
The ghost who haunts you?
The man you once knew?
Please don't leave me now that I know what I've missed for so
So so long

Visit Philip Bell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.