Baby I
Baby I just

You come to see
What's been going on with me
Ain't got no doubts
As you sit down on my couch

Girl I feel low
Just thought you should know
So you don' blow your little smoke
Right in my face

Oh honey, there's a lot of things
We should really, really say

You know it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not at all
You know it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not at all

Got fired from my job
'Cause I was lying to my boss
My shirts all got holes
And I got no money, I got no control

My soul's getting down
She said to me as she started to frown
I told her don't go blowing your mind on things
You'll never, never know

And sadly she said
I think it's time for me to go

You know it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not at all
You know it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not at all

God, love and money is baffling me
And even though I'm losing you honey
Well, there's just so much more that I need

Well, it takes
Time, time, time
Time, time, time
Time, time, time

It takes time
But time doesn't notice, not, not at all
And it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not at all

And it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not, not, not
And it takes time
But time doesn't notice, not at all

It takes time
Time, time, time
[Incomprehensible]
You got me baby, it's time, time, time
One more time
