The beast is hidden deep within the dark. There's a beast waiting behind every man's heart.
You live half your life hoping to tame the rage. Just to realize that you just can't keep it caged.
The human heart don't gave no walls, until the beast
comes crashing down from on top of his wrecking ball.

Trouble gonna fall you all your life. Every time you push the beast down, it brings it out into the light.
The beast come knocking on your front door, then he come creeping up on your back porch.
When the beast comes creeping, better give it what it's looking for, or you better change the lock on that rusty cage door.

Chorus

It'll knock a grown man right off his feet, and down to the bottom of a bottle of grief.
Begging for some mercy, you get no relief. That's just the nature of the beast

If your'e wondering where lies the beast. There's on living in you. There's on trying to kill me.
Take a look in your mirror, and tell me what you see. If you can't keep it locked down, you better let it run free.
The human heart don't gave no walls, until the beast
comes crashing down from on top of his wrecking ball.

Chorus

It's just the nature of the beast. It's just the nature of the beast
Gotta let it run free. Gotta let it run free.
It's gonna get you babe, knock you right down on your knees.
The beast done got the best of a better man, than you
and me.
Let it run free. It's just the nature of the beast. Better let it run free.
The beast done got the best of a better man than you
and me.
