"Party In The Sky"

Someday we will all be invited to that great big party in the sky. Someday we will all have wings and we will all know the reasons why. We are all children, each and every one. We're livin' our nights under the moon and our days under the sun. We are all children, members of the choir, and we're learning the words to the song of life. And one day we'll have wings and fly to that great big party in the sky.

Sometimes - I sing myself to sleep at night, so I won't sit up and wonder why. Why do we die? And why? - Why are we alive? God rest my soul, night after night after night.

Mother Nature and Father Time, they will guide, and they decide how long we go along for the ride. So, sing out and sing along. Sing to the sky. You'll never when, but you'll find out why.

Keep singin' to the sky, each and every line.
Sing to the sky, you'll find the notes in time.
Sing to the sky and someday you'll fly.
You and I, let's keep singin' to the sky.

Someday we will all be invited to that great big party in the sky. Someday we will all have wings and we will all know the reasons why. We are all children, we are a choir and we're learning the words to the song of life. Each day adds a new verse, each year a new refrain. It's a song with many changes, and oh how it gets rearranged. You are a member of the choir. Learn the words and sing the song of life and one day you'll have wings and fly to that great big party in the sky.
