"Silence Is Golden"

Oh how our silence is so comfortable. There often are no words that can break it.
Don't be silly, she'd always interrupt me. Like she know my words before I'd speak them.

Chorus

Silence is golden so they say. But the quiet will not be broken when we hold our tongues at bay.
If silence is golden, please let it be today. No words would come, and now the silence wont go away.

Quietly we'd ride along that quiet island country side.
An eternity wrapped up n a fifteen minute ride.
Like the trees and seas and the breeze, the conversation passed me by.
Looking back I wish I'd have tried.

Silence is golden now I see. Friends and lovers sitting quietly.
If silence is golden, please let it be. The quiet is all I have. It's all she left me.
