When the dancing's done and the folks are gone
Will you walk with me or will it just be one?
I've got an angel but I'm getting scared
Nine lives with maybe one to spare

Good timing or is it bad timing you've got?
Good timing or is it bad timing you've got?

When the singer has sung and the course is run
Will the day end before it's even begun?
I've got a fishbowl-head in the clouds

I've got some voices and they're getting loud

These guitar strings need a change
Just like my old ways
You're filled with tomorrows
But how do we get past today?

When the day is done
And the folks are gone?
Will you walk me home or will it just be one?
I've got a story that you'll want to hear
Just a glimpse before I disappear
