"I Tried To Run"

The weight of the world is making it cave in on itself
Out of room to turn day to day while the wealthy count their wealth

Save your money when the gas tank calls
Count your pennies and the government calls

I tried to run but I ran into the way it was
I tried to run but I ran into the way it was

A pipeline to Texas
Red carpet - Million Dollar Man of the Free

But what happened next?
Direct threats and human casualty

All of a sudden we wake from a dream
More or less alive more or less free
But it's much less than it used to be

The weight of the world is making it cave in on itself
A false sense of fear
A little more Westernized and a little more hell
