Tonight I let you come and drive with me to see
You might be nothing else but something from a dream
I know there is something else between us, you and me
You might be nothing else but something from a dream

They choose you
But they don't understand you like I do
Its like I am falling down and I will like to
No one ever said it will be this hard to find you

Tonight I let you come to drive with me to see
You might be nothing else but something for a dream
I know there is something else between us, you and me
You might be nothing else but something from a dream

And they chase you and they will know what to do if they caught you
But I got plans to take off soon
No one ever said it will be this hard to find you

Tonight I let you come and drive with me to see
You might be nothing else but something for a dream
I know there is something else between us, you and me
You might be nothing else but something from a dream

Yes, Yes, You get me so hard baby I am lifted
Nothing's gonna trouble never get it twisted
I am gifted you got something I need
So why you run away from me
I know .. I already know what the dream is
And now I am about to give it new meanings

Tonight I let you come and drive with me to see
You might be nothing else but something for a dream
I know there is something else between us, you and me
You might be nothing else but something from a dream
