Looking through the photos you find in my drawer
Laughing so hard, you're rolling around on the floor
At all the bad haircuts and smoking cigarettes
A restless romantic, trying hard to impress

Well, that's just me before we met
Well, that's just me before we met

Putting down the photos, you look up at me
Enjoying the thought of the person that I used to be
The things I was proud of, the things I regret
Some things I remember, some things I forget

Well, that's just me before we met
Well, that's just me before we met

Well, I've always had a wild imagination
And you see through the heart
Which I know can be a wild combination
Like a flame formed from a spark
But don't be shy, be brave, little champion
It's better to live than to hide

Well, that's just me before we met
Well, that's just me before we met

Well, don't be shy, be brave, little champion
(That's just me before we met)
But don't be shy, be brave, little champion
(That's just me before we met)

Well, don't be shy, be brave, little champion
(That's just me before we met)
But don't be shy, be brave, little champion
(That's just me before we met)

Well, that's just me before we met
Well, that's just me before we met
