Looking through the photos you find in my draw
Laughing so hard you're rolling around on the floor
At all the bad haircuts and smoking cigarettes
The lustless romantic trying hard to impress

Well that's just me before we met
Well that's just me before we met

Putting down the photos you look up at me
Enjoying the thought of the person I used to be
The things I was proud of
The things I regret
Some things I remember
Some things I forget

Well that's just me before we met
Well that's just me before we met

Well I've always had a wild imagination
And a see through heart
Which I know can be a wild combination
Like a flame forms from a spark

But don't be shy
Be brave little champion
It's better to live than to hide

Well that's just me before we met
Well that's just me before we met

Well don't be shy, be brave little champion
(Well that's just me before we met)
But don't be shy, be brave little champion
(Well that's just me before we met)

Well don't be shy, be brave little champion
(Well that's just me before we met)
But don't be shy, be brave little champion
(Well that's just me before we met)

Well that's just me before we met

Well that's just me before we met
