I believe we've come to where there's no turning back
It's a one-way street and it seems like we're trapped
In a way, I know that things have been going on for too long

It's become too much, it's so hard to go on
But I'm not the one who walks away that easily
I try to believe in love, try so hard to be in love

Someday, in another time and place
With a brighter, stronger flame
We'll make it right
In some way, there can be a miracle
Our love can still be magical
I know that we can make it right

I used to think that U had been sent from above
That we were meant to be, forever U and me
Day by day went by and somewhere we went wrong
And our devotion's been gone from that moment and on
But I'm not the one who walks away easily
I try to believe in love, try so hard to be in love

Someday, in another time and place
With a brighter, stronger flame
We'll make it right
In some way, there can be a miracle
Our love can still be magical
I know that we can make it right

Cause deep inside my heart and mind
I truly think that love is blind
I know there can be miracles
Our love can still be magical
I know that we can make it right
