"I Want It So Bad"

Stop and explore the fire burning in your core.
It's melting your skin and leaving you raw.
You're hurting. Pain, it's driving you along.
What is it we are always looking for?

Have you ever wanted it so bad that nothing you try can fill that hole that's deep inside?
Well I, I need it and I, I want it so bad.

I've been longing but something blocks the door.
Why is it the things we want we cannot have?
I can't quench what's inside it's getting worse.
I can't stop now.
Pursuit is all we have.

Have you ever wanted it so bad that nothing you try can
fill that hole that's deep inside?
Well I, I need it and I, I want it so bad.
