If I get the colors I would paint an art piece for you.
That very art piece no one ever could complete.
And I guess nothing would compare your looking,
No paint dots will ever get mixed to colors that you wear.

If I get the colors I would paint an art piece for you,
That very art piece no one ever could complete.

If I get the colors, if I get the words,
I will search for you,
I would make you the best mixtape in the recorder.

If I get the words I would write a song for you.
But there is not words enough to make it.
And if I ever learnt to sing I would sing that song for you,
I would sing it loud and clear so everyone could hear that
I never gave up on you, I would write a song for you,
But there is not words enough to make it.

I will search for you,
The most secret treasures ??????? get far away from here,
But not as far that I might get lost and never see you again,
If that might happen I will find those broken glasses
Which I've been looking for so long.

But if I now couldn't see, when would these glasses be stuck on me?
But if I now couldn't see, when would these glasses be stuck on me?

But if I now couldn't see, when would these glasses be stuck on me?
But if I now couldn't see, when would these glasses be stuck on me?

If I get the colors, if I get the words

I will search for you
I would make you the best mixtape in the recorder.

If I get the colors, if I get the words
I will search for you,
You
