Long, long time have passed away
While I was thinking what should I do
Gone, even the season has gone

I couldn't say anything to you
The town is moving on every day
Though I don't have any eyes finding you

A bird keeps on searching for his home
A seed keeps on searching for her bed
Keeps on trying, trying, trying

Enough to leave
Otherwise it pains me
It's enough
It does mean nothing
Quiet chamber without you

Sky, sky is always shining there
While you can get some speciality
Love, something like destiny
Close, close your second chance for me
Miles I have walked for long time
Time is what you've already lost

A bird keeps on searching for his home
A seed keeps on searching for her bed

Enough to leave
Otherwise it pains me
It's enough
It does mean nothing
Quiet chamber without you
