I use to spend my nights alone, laying there staring at the telephone Wishing you were on the other side It's kinda funny how I lost control of the only thing I ever did know
But baby I'm gonna find my way tonight

I am a bullet flying a pilot riding on a plane that's crashing down
And I'm a race car driving a thousand miles in seconds and I won't slow down
I am coming for you now
Faster than the speed of sound

I spent way to long standing still It never worked out and it never will You can't get far when you can't get off the ground
So hey baby let's make it right
I want to see the world through your eyes Ain't no way to stop it now

I'm a bullet flying a pilot riding on a plane that's crashing down
And I am a race car driving a thousand miles in seconds and I won't slow down
I am coming for you now
Faster than the speed of sound

I'm a bullet flying a pilot riding on a plane that is
crashing down
I'm a bullet flying a pilot riding on a plane that is
crashing down
And I'm a race car driving a thousand miles in

I'm coming for you now
I'm coming for you now
I'm coming for you now
Faster than the speed of sound
