Intro:

Wherever you are, in this crazy, crazy world,
I just have to say one thing,
Is keep you head up, and never down!

Chorus:

I'm from a small town, now I need the world,
In my dream I was taking over everything,
Let me breathe, I want freedom,
I'm ready to be who I was born to be,
I'm from a small town, they see me as a clown,
Won't be making a fool of myself this time around,
I need to see the earth, beautiful so I've heard,
Won't be satisfied until I've seen at least a third (Yeah)

Verse 1:

A small town could never stifle big dreams,
I'm climbing out, flying away, give me a break
please,
I'm forever motivated by my own team,
Open minded, took advice, they told me never cease,
Cause the streets are full of aimless souls, people talking on the low,
Nothing much to do but cause trouble though,
Every day and every night becomes the same,
Unless you switch up your attitude and give your life a change

Chorus:

I'm from a small town, now I need the world,
In my dream I was taking over everything,
Let me breathe, I want freedom,
I'm ready to be who I was born to be,
I'm from a small town, they see me as a clown,
Won't be making a fool of myself this time around,
I need to see the earth, beautiful so I've heard,
Won't be satisfied until I've seen at least a third

Verse 2:

The year was 1998 when I first landed here,
A whole load of memories could never disappear,
I have to stay in the present to keep my vision clear,
And moving forward is tougher so let's switch up the gear,
I dream of the top, I think of the flop, I'm pulling my music from under the rocks,
No more sleeping, sick of rejection, I'm treating myself to a whole new perception, Left for a few months came back everything was almost American inspired,
Just give me a chance, and maybe one day I can take this town much higher

Chorus:

I'm from a small town, now I need the world,
In my dream I was taking over everything,
Let me breathe, I want freedom,
I'm ready to be who I was born to be

I'm from a small town, they see me as a clown,
Won't be making a fool of myself this time around,
I need to see the earth, beautiful so I've heard,
Won't be satisfied until I've seen at least a third

I'm from a small town, now I need the world,
In my dream I was taking over everything,
Let me breathe, I want freedom,
I'm ready to be who I was born to be
