Trying to keep cool if you're close to me searching for you in the faceless crowds dreading my luck, if you love me not, stop, the time is now.

Trying to keep cool if you're close to me
searching for you in the faceless crowds
now.

When you saved my soul I knew that I could want you more and more Trully every song was dedicated to you and you alone I imagine your hands holding me, make believe And I'll write you more love letters, but I'm melding back to me.
