Are you ready? Are you ready?
Are you ready? Are you ready? Go!
My fist is clenched on fear, holding blood sweat and my tears
It's how I've been for all these years, I don't want this I don't need this
This fear has turned to rage, an animal locked in this cage
Another chance to turn the page, but I don't want this I don't need this
I am the calm before the storm
The battle right before the war
I won't stop won't lose today
Only one can walk away
You've become the flame in my hurricane This fire will light the sky, burns so bright it will terrorize
I've gone so far I can't change my mind, I don't want this I don't need this If I live to see another day, I'll put this down and walk away
I'm not assigned to an early grave, I don't want this I don't need this
I am the calm before the storm
The battle right before the war
I won't stop won't lose today
Only one can walk away
You've become the flame in my hurricane
Are you ready? Are you ready?
Are you ready? Are you ready?
I am the calm before the storm
The battle right before the war
What the hell have I done this for?
I won't stop won't lose today
Only one can walk away
You've become the flame in my hurricane
I won't stop won't lose today
Only one can walk away
Throw my soul out on display You've become the flame in my hurricane
