Babe it's down on me and I will tell you that it's Just a little too late to fight
And now I watch your greed exceed
Like you think you have every right baby
You may have the time
You may have the time
You may have the time but it stops with me

You keep stutterin' and honey I can tell
That you aint been no where good
And if you think the blood running through my veins
Aint gonna boil you best turn the page and look
Cause I'm a little too crazy minded
A little too crazy minded
I'm a little too, a little too crazy

(You put me) Sugar you put me
(In your world) In your world unprepared
(You took me) You took me and left me
In the middle of no where

Where did you go now baby?
Everybody wanna know
(Girl it just aint right)
(Tore him up inside)
Where did you go now baby?
Everybody wanna know

You know baby if I was you
I might give my lovin' just one more try
We could throw away the proof
Of the lives that we've just left behind
Darling don't you see me crying?
Don't you see me crying?
Don't you see, won't you see me crying for you baby?
I'm crying for you baby

(You put me) Sugar you put me
(In your world) In your world unprepared
(You took me) You took me and left me
In the middle of no where oh baby
(You put me) Sugar you put me

(In your world) In your world unprepared
(You took me) You took me and left me
In the middle of no where oh darlin'

What am I to do girl?
Oh baby what am I to do?
