There are pictures on my TV screen
Stories told of make believe
Seems there's always something new

I could waste my time
With characters that hypnotize
I hope to see them soon

But they're not real
They can't feel
They don't steal my heart like you do

The ghosts of all my yesterdays
Are calling me to slip away
Back to where they all began

I enjoy their company
But they don't have the fix for me
I'd rather hold your hand

'Cause they're not real
They can't feel
They don't steal my heart like you do

I can see you when I close my eyes
But memories don't satisfy
I'm better with you by my side

I could search the whole world through
And still not find another you
But I'm not looking for a change

I don't even know the score
But you're all I want and a little more
And I need you every day

'Cause our love is real
I like the way it feels
No one steals my heart like you do
