Somewhere in between the earth and the sky
Somewhere in between a tear and a smile
Somewhere in between hello and goodbye
That's where I gave my heart to the love of my life

Now we're on our way
To God knows where
We'll know when we get there

You're the faith that I'll believe
You're the song that I will sing
You're the summer, winter, fall, and spring
And I'll see You there
Somewhere in between

Somewhere in between the highways and the trails
Somewhere in between the roses and the nails
Somewhere in between the darkness and the day
That's where I found You, here in the grey

And we're on our way
To God knows where
We'll know when we get there

You're the faith that I'll believe
You're the song that I will sing
You're the summer, winter, fall, and spring
And I'll see You there
Somewhere in between

I'll see You there
I'll see You there
