What did I do to you?
To you, what did I do?
My brothers through and through, never meant to do you no harm
All I wanted was to be your friend, 'til the end
Blood and scabs
You punish me (and my feet slowly sink into the mud.)
Blood soaked rags tell many stories and opening
And examining them heeds a nightmare For I am reminded of broken bonds and the loss of strength
And when the blood dries will these conditions remained solid forever
'Cause I never thought I'd see you go
We can only do so much on our own
But hand in hand, we can accomplish many things
So when you tore us apart and never told me...
How could I have known?
'Cause I wrapped you (this relationship) with soiled rags
(soaked in the stench of the beast.)
Only one choice, together (like brothers)
We must come together (like sisters)
Let us raise our hands together
Let us raise our hands in victory
