I want your world to shake
Your ground moving
Look into my eyes
It's like you see right through me
You'll need a seismograph to measure heartbeats
I'm an earthquake and I'll tear you apart

I live invisible
Can't possibly control me
I'm here to shake things up
I'm making love to a hot beat

I bottle it up, I bottle it up
Always unfulfilled
I bottle it up, I bottle it up
Let the pressure build

I want your world to shake
Your ground moving
Look into my eyes
It's like you see right through me
You'll need a seismograph to measure heartbeats
I'm an earthquake and I'll tear you apart

I'm a catastrophe
You'll notice this about me
Beautifully wrecked
I'm unforgettably surrounding

I bottle it up, I bottle it up
Always unfulfilled
I bottle it up, I bottle it up
Let the pressure build

I want your world to shake
Your ground moving
Look into my eyes
It's like you see right through me
You'll need a seismograph to measure heartbeats
I'm an earthquake and I'll tear you apart

There are so many pieces to me

That you carry around in your heart
We're both so incomplete
But we fit together perfectly

I want your world to shake
Your ground moving
Look into my eyes
It's like you see right through me
You'll need a seismograph to measure heartbeats
I'm an earthquake and I'll tear you apart

I want your world to shake
Your ground moving
Look into my eyes
It's like you see right through me
You'll need a seismograph to measure heartbeats
I'm an earthquake and I'll tear you apart
