We'll live forever, they'll never bring us down
We'll die together, by our blood we're bound

Dancing with flames,
You'll burn your feet on the embers
Don't look up to see,
The next place you'll fall
You'll fucking hate them all

The walls appear to be growing
Don't leave me borrowed words
Construct your disease
In house of tortured misconception

You'll go to hell in the world
But i'll live forever inside you
Like a sickness, I'm getting worse

Turn up your glasses
We're going to hell
Burn down the diesel
I'll see you in hell

You'll find no comfort, in the arms that hold
No love, grow weak, alone and cold
You'll find no passion, inside those eyes
I'll build my life up, and you'll drown in your demise

You'll find no comfort, in the arms that hold
You'll find no love, you're alone and cold

The walls appear to be growing
Don't leave me borrowed words
Construct your disease
In house of tortured misconception
