I'll be waiting for you all this night
But I don't want to wait for much more

I read your poses through the lines
But unforeseen I see you are much closer

It's like a breath
I have been able
To feel nothing in time

I don't want to remain lonely to keep waiting for
Please come closer I have to kiss you now

The pain is rain against my fool face

Your tears are water washing me away

Remain still here

It's so easy but you, you're so doubtful

I have understood it's all in one step
