I'm leaving, just to never come back
Far away, because of what I used to be
But you are so sure, I will come back
And lookin' at me louder you laugh

~Cuz you have no one single doubt
~Cuz just for your one word
How many times I will Die?

I'm leaving, and you will remain here
Far away, despite you look so pissed off
Why don't you beg me to never leave?
Why don't you tell me you are in love?

~Cuz you have no one single doubt
~Cuz just for your one word
How many times I will die?

I don't care how much we hardly try to hurt
I don't care if you win this stupid game
I've come back for what I always red
In your eyes when they shined

And now that I'm here,
And now that I'm leavin' you breathless again
Completely disarmed
Begin' to know what I did
If I loved you, if I missed you
As you did so long
But I'm not scared
That you could never say to me

I don't care how much we hardly try to hurt and
I don't care if you win this stupid game
I've come back for what I always red
In your eyes when they shined
