A violent envy of myself, i'm finding it in me. It's easier just to forgive than forget.

And i can't leave it all behind, with friendship comes loyalty. But sometimes i can't trust myself.

We're taught to live and learn, defeat and burn, bend and turn, give and yearn.

I felt me body turn cold. (something's changing)

A feeling that i've never known.

And through my decay, i'm brought to life.

I got something for you, a little peice of mind.

Something you can't see but figure out through time.

If happiness was for sale then we'd all be first in line.

But we all have dreams so follow your heart and live your life.

I felt me body turn cold. (something's changing)

A feeling that i've never known.

And through my decay, i'm brought to life.

Education is the movement from darkness to light.
