Given another shot. I swear this time we'll make it. (this is the path we're on)

The road is free and clear, our eyes bloodshot but open.

One day we'll be on top of the fold.

Here's to another night. The end is nowhere in sight
and all we got is time.

The will to win the fight, we'll take whatever trouble
comes our way and we
won't let it keep us down.

Our heads under stars, the dreams we can't let go, fire
burning in our hearts.

(the hunger deep inside) It's what keeps us going and sometimes that's all we need to put us on top of the fold.

Here's to another night. The end is nowhere in sight
and all we got is time.

The will to win the fight, we'll take whatever trouble
comes our way and we
won't let it keep us down.

And this time we won't let go.
