Be a Man

You have a past that
Controls what we are
And lately it's been tearing me down.
She held you close just to throw you away
And now you can't love what you have found

All you should've done was given me attention.
I'm at a place where I don't belong,
Acting like there's not a problem
Cause you play dumb.
You're dragging us along
I've gotta tell you know
Before You burn us out.
You need to take the control
And be a man.

Why try to love without giving your all.
Holding back is throwing away.
I'm better off living with no more restraints.
It's up to you to change your ways.

All you should've done was given me attention.
I'm at a place where I don't belong,
Acting like there's not a problem
Cause you play dumb.
You're dragging us along
I've gotta tell you know
Before You burn us out.
You need to take the control
And be a man.
