Look how they're judging
What they think they see.
Trying to wear a smile
To hide what's underneath.
Look how they're wounding
With words that they speak.
The fight against rejection,
I'm praying for the strength

To turn away,
To find forgiveness,
To throw away
The weight I'm left with.
I won't back down, no
I was lost and found
Don't wanna fit in,
I just wanna stand out.

Don't waste your breath
With your innocent pleas,
Attacking with aggression
And no apologies.
Day after day
Cutting victims so deep
Escaping from your prison,
Now I have the strength

To turn away,
To find forgiveness,
To throw away
The weight I'm left with.
I won't back down, no
I was lost and found
Don't wanna fit in,
I just wanna stand out.
