"Take Your Place"

I wish we'd let go from the start the past, was both our instincts.
I wish we had let down our guards, the walls that lead to nothing.
There's one more thing to say and I hope you feel it too.
I only needed you to say that "I need you"

Cause when you put your arms around me
It's what makes my heart start pounding
Baby I'm here to stay.
Nothing could take your place.
Cause I'll never leave you lonely and I swear that you're the only one I'd ever say that nothing could take your place
away from me.

I still regret the things I said
That we would never make it.
I still recall that moment
on the phone,
when it all ended.
I couldn't see that you cared
So I pulled away
When all I really wanted
Was for you to feel the same

Cause when you put your arms around me
It's what makes my heart start pounding
Baby I'm here to stay.
Nothing could take your place.
Cause I'll never leave you lonely
and I swear that you're the only one I'd ever say that
nothing could take your place
away from me.
