I can feel the worlds heat,
The warm sweat when i sleep
Cause i used to dream what u see
About some change,
And yet it stays the same
The same dirty innapropriate way
And who are we to blame
In these hard times,
Its hard to decide,
Who we ride with,
Who we rhyme with
Cause only some of us are shining
And others are dying inside and trying to find the light,
I know im gunna fight for my rights
And stay true in this life until the end of my time,
So why do i rhyme
Its pretty simple
Isnt it
Yet ya missing it
Well anyways,
Never quitting it

(Cant Quit In These Hard Times)

Yeah
In these hard times
These hard times

You gotta fight

In these hard times
These hard times
These hard times
These hard times

You gotta fight
x3

So what do most people think this world is for:
It Whirls
It twirls
It swirls
Tell your parents your going to the library to study then go hang with girls

Yeah
And you think no matter what you do in this life
It doesnt matter
Cause you just live than die
Thats why im sitting in ma bed sweating
Thats why i cant sleep
In these warm sheets
Feeling the worlds heat
Thinkin.... am i goin to win it. to lose it. to kill it, or quit it
(Cant Quit In These Hard Times)

Yeah
In these hard times
These hard times

You gotta fight

In these hard times
These hard times
These hard times
These hard times

You gotta fight
x3
