Not a vision
Not a golden rule
Will keep us from the truth

Not a whisper from a high high throne
Will keep me from telling you
That I'm a lover
I believe you are too

We're fighting for a common good
And if you love me
Then say you do
Odds and ends will end where they should

Ooh, there is not a God in heaven
That wants to see us fighting this way
Ooh, He spoke more about loving
Then people trying to make people change

Speak your favor as I speak my mind
Who am I to try to take that away
There is a light
That is shining from a dark design

And the beauty is that we can change
How can we love ourselves
If we don't love each other
When we both feel the same thing

An eye for an eye
A word for a word
Peace on earth could be displayed

Ooh, there is not a God in heaven
That wants to see us fighting this way
Ooh, He spoke more about loving
Then people trying to make people change

When we are hungry we are fed
When we are hungry we are fed
With only one life to live
I'd rather live with you as my friend

When we are hungry we are fed
When we are hungry we are fed
I'd rather live with you as my friend
Than someone that I was trying to condemn

I'm a lover
I believe you are too
And we're fighting for a common good

And if you love me
Then say you do
Odds and ends will end where they should
