Here in your arms
I know my heart you can disarm
I'm sorry that I take so long
To see the ways I've done you wrong
I say...

This will not be the last time that I let you down
Even on a rock my toes find brittle ground
If you can move mountains, make all the earth shake
You can break my heart, make it return to awake

Here in your arms
I know my heart you can disarm
I'm sorry that I take so long
To see the ways I've done you wrong
I say...

There will never be a time you take your love from me
Even when my feet move toward catastrophe
Gone is my trail of crumbs, without a trace
I'll never find my own way home apart from your grace

Here in your arms
I know my heart you can disarm
I'm sorry that I take so long
To see the ways I've done you wrong
I say

In your arms, in your arms
In your arms, in your arms
In your arms, in your arms
Here in your arms
I know my heart you can disarm
I'm sorry that I take so long
To see the ways I've done you wrong
I say
