The crazy guy has gone home
And now I am all alone
With a machine that never stops talking
Who put that thing on top of your head young man?
I say this place
Well, we are together
Together
Standing in a trash can
Looking for a life
And your camera is just a distraction
If you can't save me, go away
Go away
And your makeup and breakup
And everything that comes with you
Your makeup and brakeup
And everything that comes with you

There's pain and there's shame and it's sliding down the walls
The break is over, I must go back and lift it up

Your makeup and breakup
And everything that comes eith you
You makeup and breakup
And everything that comes
With you

What would you feel like
If I smashed your head?
If I smash your head
If I smash your head
Head
Head
Head
Head...
