

An Early Fall "Aim"

Lost my point of view
Brings me to my knees
They pass the note the antidote for muddy thoughts I have
They give it up, I'll swallow down to kill my other half They check the drip, it's well equipped to drop my counterpart
I'm loosing sight if only I could urge this split to start

Lost my point of view (defying gravity) brings me to my knees (I need you to)

Aim for my aim for my veins (kill my self control)
Aim for my aim for my veins (lovely overdose)
Aim for my aim for my veins (hopeless antidote)
Aim for my aim for my veins

Level me I'm hardly on my feet again
Say it's severe medicate and pinch the feeder vein

Lost my point of view (defying gravity) brings me to my knees (I need you to)

(Chorus)

No let it
Oh let it end here
It's been so long to hear you say you say
say it's severe

(Chorus)
