You enter this space without a noise
Air is shallow not that I'd know
In the wait until we both settle in
How can I resist when I don't know
You gave me no choice
So silent just like you needed
Spare me a lot of noise
I'm not the only one
To throw an awkward silence
In the wait until the drug settle in
Your real intent begins when I don't know
You gave me no choice
So silent just like you

Oh let ruphenol be your guide
I'll only be out for a little while
Oh and if I should never come around
Tell my mother it was out of her hands

Your aether fills space when I'm a void
I'm not the only one left to dissolve this silence
In the wait no coercion getting in Pathetically admit I'd rather not know
You gave me no choice
So silent just like you

Oh let ruphenol be your guide
I'll only be out for a little while
Oh and if I should never come around
Tell my mother it was out of her hands

No more silence
No lucid dreaming
No recollection
No singing me to sleep

Oh let ruphenol be your guide
I'll only be out for a little while
Oh and if I should never come around
Tell my mother it was out of her hands
