What what what what what did you think you were doing?

How how how how how did you think this would go?

When when when when when you showed up on my radar

Where where where where where did you think you would show?

What what what what what do you make of this station

How how how how how it pulls away from the train?

When when when when when if at all will you realize

Where where where where where do and done are the same?

What what what what what now you're out in the open

How how how how how do you think you can hide?

When when when when when will you find some nice soft sand

Where where where where where you can bury your pride?

What what what what what do you want from this lifetime?

How how how how how does your story line flow?

When when when when when you finally get to the punch line

Where where where where where will the applause sign go?

And why why why why why don't you just take your bow

Cuz who's gonna love you now?
