This is the dark that disappeared when you walked into the room of my mind this is the black I've been coughing up since I dived down to the lowest part You woke the monsters in the sea now they're coming after me so lover bring them to the shore and we will listen as they soar Oh holy day let it leave put a message on the wind:
I never wanted you to bleed but there's a devil inside me This is "your body is your house" this is "bones are scaffolds that we borrow" and our days so sober over, over the most expensive road to follow You woke the monsters in the sea
now they're coming after me
put a message on the wind:
I never wanted you to bleed
but there's a devil inside me Oh holy day let it breathe cut a message on the tree: my hope was almost gone from me and some things don't leave easily
