Oh wait, I panic
And every flaw reveals to me the mess you made
Break this discomfort
The more I sing the more you act like you don't care
So please count me out

I'm willing to cover whatever you did
Time probably will tell me how this will end
I try to look forward, go over this year

Oh wait, you panic
In the cage of your opinions you feel safe
You stare at empty spaces
Singing the crackest blues
You're leading us nowhere

I'm willing to cover whatever you did
Time probably will tell me how this will end
I try to look forward, go over this year
Cause there's no way to erase all those memories

I'm willing to cover whatever you did
Time probably will tell me how this will end
I try to look forward, go over this year
Cause there's no way to erase all those memories

I'm willing to cover whatever you did
Time probably will tell us how this will end
