the decorations fell a red and green white stare a silver line surrounds rooftops and black clouds they're on their way to me well happy birthday to me

the forgotten king
and happy birthday to me

open hands outstretched to receive their prize oh, but i could give you anything yes, anything you're everything to me

for you i'll be forgetting me
