Let time take you,
My life was blown away in the wind like todays Manuscripts down the roads that these people walk so blindly
To find the reason to life and fate to taunt torture and realize
The future would be suicide in the eyes of those who cannot Even see, but to please you and me,

I will scream in a thousand voices and see through only one eye,
No recognizeable sound can be made as these voices Cry to be heard,

Muted (Muted) we stand muted in this world,
Standing our ground like pillars we are found still tall,
Muted (Muted) we stand muted in this world,
Standing our ground like pillars we won't fall,

Breaking my legs just to hear to hear these words,
Just to know it won't pass, to know freedom is my own and
To surpass all that I have known,
I can never find what I seek but always find a way to make My voice heard, we know what to do but are too afraid to say,

Muted (Muted) we stand muted in this world,
Standing our ground like pillars we are found still tall,
Muted (Muted) we stand muted in this world,
Standing our ground like pillars we won't fall,

Now our only right is to remain silent,
Now our only right is to remain silent.
