the lord of the abyss, multiple my power
all the demons, give me your evil power from the place where infinity breathes with fire, from the place where the life paths ends
oh you, the northern wind!
send me your violence!
oh you, the southern wind!
send me the heat of your deserts!
oh you! the tornadoes of the east!
send me your ancient wisdom!
oh you, the wind of the west!
show me my way!
I'm sending a worm into your soul,
I'm sending a snake into your body,
go and eat his soul and flash,
oh, my damnation!
take his life away, let his life
drop away into the sea of oblivion the streams from hell, let you take his soul and strike it on the stones of evil oh, great ancient ones!
give me the lighting that's able to aim his heart
by all the forces of hell is sent this damnation of mine steel to steel, blood to blood pain to pain, life to death!
millions of wizards look with my eyes millions of wisemen live with my heart the victim won't escape the damnation let no shelter hide him from my spells don't let him survive after my blow don't let him move anymore that's the damnation that's the law!
let it be, there's no other way,
I want you to die!
let the pain always stay with you!
