"Time Flies"

Our time is running out
Still livin'on the fringe
Hellbound earth, here and now
We could only cringe
From the safety zone
Leaving again, we're long gone
And don't know where
Don't think twice
Don't look back
Are we ever coming home again?

You know we ought to face up
But I wonder if we'll ever be strong
Time flies and I wonder
How we lasted this long

Hear us now
Under the noise
We scream and cry
Is there any one listening?
What do they hear in the outside world?
Do they understand
The message we're sending?
It's been like this as long as I remember
Big machines inside my brain
We don't think twice, never look back
Are we ever coming home again?
