Don't waste your time thinking it over
You got to survive, keep on looking over your shoulder

Well I don't know what to think anymore
I have some keys but I lost the door
I can't see if it's me or you
Do you know, have you seen this too?
Cant know what it is all the time
Questions unfold and cloud the mind
When I see you understand me
My pain and anger will at last be set free

Well I don't know what to think anymore
I have some keys but I lost the door
I can't see if it's me or you
Do you know, have you seen this too?
I know I'm living in a crazy world
I got to watch out for my little girl
Are we heading for a major disaster?

What lives in me....terror to see
Confusion reigns...pleasure of pain
Never can I see the tings that may be
Unveil the reasons for what's haunting me

Don't see, don't do, don't go there
I tell you brother that you better beware
Now I'm not putting all the blame on you
Coz I know I've done wrong too
We must resolve this upset sunset
Or forever live with regret

You're stuck chocking on you own beleifs
So much so that you can't see
See through all of the lies
Never to be unveiled until you die
