Don't tell me to go away,
But I will leave what you're saying to me,so say it one more time
You know that these words go through me
And I don't mind if she's selling my things online
I think about it all the time
And the words they say

Chorus:

Another day
Another day,away
But it's another day
Another day
Another day,away

But I will never come first,but I will never fail
I got all this dirt under my fingernails
My stomach is full from picking your brain
Just sounds so shitty,I will never complain

Well,you get what you give
But I give all I've got
I sit back and watch while this town starts to rot
I'm sick of these leeches just looking for fame

In another day,another day away
But it's another day
Another day
Another day,away
But it's another day
Another day,another day

I got all these phrases locked up in my head
Reminds me of something a wise man once said
You try so hard to get out of this place
But if you never start then you can't win the race
Forgive and forget,boy,will you ever learn?
We'll sit back and watch while the tables,they turn [They're using,they're cheating] the games that we play

Another day,Another day away

Away

But it's another day

Another day,another day,away

But it's another day

Another day,another day

I've got glass in my feet 'cause my shoes are torn

I can't help stop thinking what I should have worn

There's nothing here for you,so why do you stay?

I cannot come with you,there's no fucking way

I can't leave here tonight,this deal has expired

I punish myself 'cause I shouldn't have lied

Get down on my knees and you pay me to pray

It's another day,another day away

(Away,but it's another day)

Away

But it's another day

Another day,another day,away

But it's another day

Another day,another day

(away)

I've got glass in my feet 'cause my shoes are torn

I can't help stop thinking what I should have worn

(But it's another day)

There's nothing here for you,so why do you stay?
