They say that letting go of what you love the most will be the best choice in the end.

So come a little closer, tell me you're a wreck and this is moving way too fast for you. Alas, it's the same damn story that I've heard a half a dozen times by a half a dozen girls.

Well this not about the ending and this is not about your words. This is getting over anything to do with you. And I can blame it on the weather or I can blame it on your pills, but the fact is we were never meant to ever last.

I wrote you off the very second we broke up 'cause I could never go through this again with you 'cause baby you're a God damn mess just like you said you were; but I ignored it in spite of your eyes.

Well this not about the ending and this is not about your words. This is getting over anything to do with you. And I can blame it on the weather or I can blame it on your pills, but the fact is we were never meant to ever last.

Can I consider this my lesson in romantics? But would it be so bad if I were there for you?

Well this not about the ending and this is not about your words. This is getting over anything to do with you. And I can blame it on the weather or I can blame it on your pills, but the fact is we were never meant to ever last. And you went and tore this anniversary in half oh no, but I won't live another second in the past.
