Open your eyes and receive the coldness of my embrace

Abandon all hope and fill your soul with ashes

Behold the hunger of the void as it unfolds

It's running blaze in hideous magnificence

The wounds already open

So let the gate unclose

Bring forth the unworthy sanctum

From the respiring stone

Fists against the stone

Sword against the wind

A flickering light

Drowning in the dark

Poison for the sick

Vinegar for the thirsty ones

A putrid kiss in coldblooded grace

I have foreseen when you were blind

I shall become whe you shall fade

I'll walk the ruins of your destiny

In the twilight of your death

I hold the key to the inescapable gift

Fists against the stone

A flickering light

Drowning in the dark

Poison for the sick
