I find nothing inside
Nothing that let's me understand
The faults and sacrifices I have made
And endless search for the answers I'll never find at all

Now I'm lost in this place, lost the feeling inside of me
Lost for the whole world to see
I am lost
I am so fucking lost

When trust is lost
How can things move on Frightened of what might be
Never saw it coming

With the flood of regret, I need to get out of here

I find things in my mind
That mean more than your empty shell
Things you can't wish for
Not even from the deepest well

Nothing more, nothing less, just a flood of regret
